THREE GLACIERS RETREAT

ANTARCTICA

— ESCAPE —

Three Glaciers is an exclusive retreat tucked away deep in the interior of Antarctica. Nestled at the base of Mount Sporli and at the head of three glaciers: the Schneider, the Schanz, and the Driscoll, this setting is the definition of remote. Here in the Heritage Range of the Ellsworth Mountains, majestic peaks rise in all directions offering unlimited opportunities for snowmobiling, hiking, climbing, and skiing.

DELIGHT — in the — DETAILS

Designed with thoughtful attention to detail, Three Glaciers provides a sanctuary for relaxation and comfort. The 8 guest suites are perfectly positioned around 180° like a giant sundial. This precise alignment optimizes the 24-hour daylight to give each suite a period of direct sun. Guests can enjoy unobstructed views of mountains and glaciers from the warmth of their private patio.

RETREAT

With only 8 sleeping suites, Three Glaciers occupancy is limited to 16 guests, affording ultimate privacy and superior service. Each suite is heated by a high-efficiency Toyostove and furnished with cozy sitting areas. You'll find plenty of space to store your polar gear as well as a charging station for your personal electronics. When you're ready to enjoy the luxury of a hot shower in the middle of Antarctica, toiletries and towels are on hand. We gather and melt snow straight from the glacier to keep a piping hot supply ready for you in our custom-built shower facility.

SLUMBER

Sleeping in 24-hour daylight can be an unusual experience, so we've taken every measure to ensure you have your best sleep at any latitude. Double-walled exteriors and window shades create the perfect dark retreat after long days in the Antarctic sun. Three suites feature king beds and five suites are outfitted with two extra-long twin beds. White oak and walnut bed frames support dreamy mattresses, sateen sheets, and down duvets covered in vintage linen.

DINE, WINE — and — RECLINE

The dining room and lounge are the heart of Three Glaciers. Here your private chef creates original dishes with fresh ingredients flown in from Chile.

In between meals, relax on the sofa with a book from our polar library or enjoy a coffee from the comfort of a leather lounge chair.
